PRESIDENT'S CORNER

As we come to the conclusion of the summer raffle, it seems appropriate to mention Ollie Burrows, our all-time raffle ticket sales leader and most recent recipient of the NNLC Bob Anderson Lifetime Service Award. I received a delightful phone call from Ellen Burrows, who has relocated to Pennsylvania to be closer to her family since Ollie's passing. She had just unwrapped the beautifully-framed and matted letter I composed in July telling her of Ollie's award, and she was thrilled that the club had honored his memory in such a way.

In the kitchen breakfast nook in her new two-bedroom home is a wall for her memorabilia, and she is going to place this letter right between his George Lazansky and Melvin Jones Fellowship awards.

Ellen told me how, "Oliver would set up in front of the Ace Hardware store when it opened and stay until closing, selling raffle tickets". At lunchtime she would pack him a picnic basket and bring it over. One very successful summer, Ollie and Ellen sold over 2,300 tickets.

I'm pleased to report that our current club membership has stepped up, and volunteers have covered the Ace Hardware location very well this summer.

Ellen told me she misses Naperville and our Noon Lions Club. She feels comfortable in her new home and enjoys being closer to her family. She said she will think of us each time she looks out her kitchen window, next to the wall with all of Ollie's awards, watching the bird feeder under the big tree in her new back yard. Lastly, she wanted all the members of our club to know how much she appreciated receiving that framed letter. It was the "emotional lift" that made her day. She wished us all well and is happy to know we will carry on in our efforts to serve others. That is what she and Ollie did together so beautifully.

Remember WE SERVE

Club News and Guest Speakers

KANE COUNTY COUGARS

On August 16, the club had its annual trip to a Kane County Cougars baseball game. There were about a dozen members and guests
in attendance on a beautiful night that also coincided with “Bark in the Park.” Luckily, our seats were far from the dogs, so no one had to monitor where they were walking
very closely.

It was a great night of baseball with the Cougars beating the Wisconsin Timber Rattlers 6-2. Luckily, no one was hurt when a laser line drive
landed in our section.

PEACE POSTER

Thank you to Lion Yllena Sinclare for accepting the role of Peace Poster Coordinator for the entire District.
She is hard at work trying to expand the program within the district and in Naperville as well.

Luncheon Speakers

LOAVES & FISHES

On August 2, Diane Ramonas was our speaker. Diane is the Community Relations Manager for Loaves & Fishes. Loaves & Fishes is a local food pantry that was started in a small closet at St. Raphael 32 years ago.

They have continued to grow and in 2011, moved into their new facility.
This new building was formulated to aid in the dignity of those it serves. It houses a client-choice market and space for a variety of other programs.

In the program space, Loaves & Fishes works in conjunction with College of DuPage to offer English
as a Second Language classes.
They also host job counselors and help clients apply for food stamps
and other types of aid. Each year
they also help with income taxes.

Loaves and Fishes recently merged with Naperville Cares to combine all of their resources under one roof.
Naperville Cares is an organization that provides emergency funding to people in need.

Clients can come and receive food
once every 14 days at Loaves & Fishes. About two-thirds of the food available has been recovered from local supermarkets. The staff picks up food from the supermarkets and inspects everything and usually gets
it onto their shelves within 24-48
hours.

The Head Lion-er

Loaves & Fishes is a member of the Northern Illinois Food Bank. This allows them to buy food for about ten cents on the dollar.

They partner with the post office and their annual food drive. Loaves and Fishes receives all of the food collected in Naperville. Their volunteers help to collect and sort. Last year they collected over 80,000 pounds of food. It took more than one month to sort through it all.

The client-choice model that Loaves & Fishes utilizes is unique. When someone is picking up food from their pantry, they walk through just like a regular supermarket. They are allowed a certain number of items per category and get to choose what they actually take home with them.

Loaves & Fishes also provides delivery to certain senior citizens and disabled clients who cannot get to the market themselves. The deliveries come once per month.

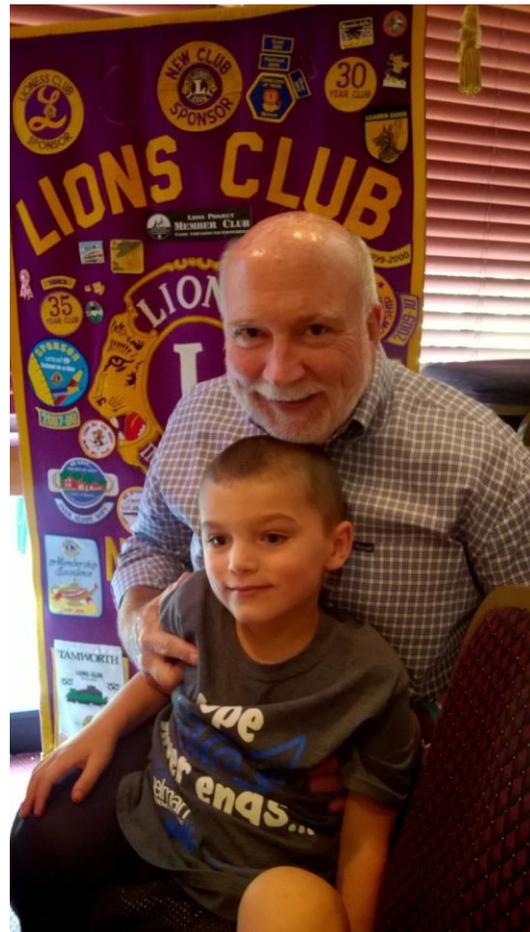

Loaves and Fishes has 18 people currently on staff. They have hundreds of volunteers that deliver the majority of their services. Last year, the volunteers dedicated 85,000 man hours to the organization. With that kind of support, Loaves and Fishes is able to use 96% of its funding for client services.

JULIE & GAVIN

On August 9, our club had many very special guests. A large contingent of Lion Al Knotek's family was on hand with Eileen Braun from the Angelman Syndrome Foundation. Al's wife, Glenda, and daughters Julie and Stacie were guests along with their children, Connor (7), Lauren (7), Gavin (5), Matthew (5) and Audrey (3).

Julie's son, Gavin, was born with Angelman Syndrome and the two of them were making a presentation to the club to provide a glimpse into their family's life and the various obstacles that they have overcome and some that they still face on a daily basis.

Lion Al with grandson Gavin

Julie spoke about how, in March of 2013, she and her family were quietly going through a struggle with Gavin as he was not progressing as expected developmentally. He was tested over and over again by a great many doctors. At this time, he was two and a half and was not sleeping through the night. No one was providing any answers or diagnoses for their situation.

In March, 2013, they travelled to the Mayo Clinic where Gavin was tested for Angelman Syndrome. After a one month wait for results, they received the news that his test was positive. At that point in time, Eileen had just spoken to our club about the Angelman Syndrome foundation. Upon learning about the organization, Lion AI directed Julie to Eileen.

Julie and her husband needed help because Angelman Syndrome is not very common. They were introduced to a program with a set of specialist in Boston. The family travels to Boston now about once per year. While in Boston, Gavin gets to meet with a number of specialists who are very familiar with Angelman Syndrome. He visits with a neurologist, a sleep specialist, a psychologist, and a gastroenterologist. They stay in Boston for three or four days at a time.

Gavin faces a number of hurdles as a result of Angelman Syndrome. He is unable to verbally communicate like other children, however he is good at saying "Mama." He has a great deal of trouble sleeping at night and needs to take medication to account for that. He is also very anxious when he is out in public. Julie was worried about how Gavin would adapt to the Lions Club environment, but she was happy to see Lion Meghan Williams arrive as she acted as a calming force for him.

Julie described how every day is full of therapy for Gavin. He goes to speech therapy and is making improvements. He loves to swim and was very excited that he and the rest of the crew were spending the afternoon swimming after our meeting. He is also a big fan of jigsaw puzzles.

Julie marveled at how compassionate and mature her other two children are because of Gavin. She calls them his greatest teachers and examples.

Overall, Gavin has made great strides since his diagnosis. Julie and her husband continue to push him each and every day because they know no limit to what he can achieve. Thus far, he has risen to the occasion every time. Thank you to Lion AI and his entire family for a very memorable and enjoyable meeting.
