PRESIDENT'S CORNER

March 1 represents the completion of two-thirds of our fiscal year, and it has been quite successful by any measure. All four major fundraisers have been completed and "all the crops are in the barn." We have raised enough revenue to cover our budgetary obligations and then some.

Thank you to Lion Donna Kearney and her Turkey Trot committee for netting over $200,000 in this year's event. Thank you to Lion Meghan Williams for taking on the important position of Program Chairman. Thank you to Lion Jim Woodring for accepting the position of Second Vice President.

We can now plan for a new slate of officers for the 2017-2018 fiscal year with a full head of steam and stable club membership. In the coming months, we will have the opportunity to participate in the District 1-J, State and International Conventions.

What a great way to end our year.

Remember WE SERVE

Club News and Guest Speakers

FEED MY STARVING CHILDREN

On February 18-19, North Central College hosted another Feed My Starving Children event and our club was on hand to volunteer. Through the course of two days, the event had approximately 5,000 volunteers. 1.3 million meals were packed, which exceeded their goal. Thank you to Lion Maria Wilson for organizing this event.

CRATE AND BARREL

On February 14, the club welcomed Diana Mewby and Pam Cleff from Crate and Barrel. Diana and Pam were on hand to present the club with 124 pairs of used eyeglasses that they have collected at Crate and Barrel to be donated to our club. Community involvement like this is a wonderful addition to our club.

RHINELANDER LIONS CLUB FISHEREE

Lion Jim Woodring was spending time near Rhinelander, Wisconsin last month when he came across the Rhinelander Lions Club's annual Fisheree Ice Fishing contest. Lion Jim and his wife, Linda, stopped by to see what all the fuss was about. While they were happy to be seen and talk with other Lions, they were not happy to be asked to take a photo with one of the Fisheree prizes, an autographed Green Bay Packer football.

Luncheon Speakers

DUPAGE COUNTY FAMILY CENTER

On February 7, Sheila Murphy-Russell was our speaker. Sheila was speaking about the DuPage County Family Center, the only one of its kind in the state of Illinois.

The DuPage County Family Center serves families where the parents have separated and the children move from one parent to the other. They provide a variety of services to the families.

They operate the parent education program that is required for all parents going through divorce in the state. They also provide mediation services and a conflict management group.

The bulk of what the family center handles is supervised parenting time and mutual exchange services. Occasionally, the court or the parents will decide that visitation with a parent is allowed only under supervision. The family center provides a supervisor who is present during the parent visit time. The supervisor also authors reports for the court if needed.

Mutual exchange is useful for parents who have a difficult time exchanging the children without arguments or altercations. They maintain separate lobbies for each parent to wait. The employees of the family center usher the children from one parent to the other in these waiting rooms. They stagger the times for the parents to leave as to avoid any time together on the road after the exchange.

The family center serves approximately 100 families each month. They serve 75 exchanges per week. Their budget is paid for by a grant from the state, a portion of every court filing fee, and DuPage County contributes as well.

FOUNDATION FIGHTING BLINDNESS

On February 14, Lions John Corneille and Steve Sroka were our speakers representing Foundation Fighting Blindness. John has spoken to our club many times and was back to provide an update on his participation in the stem cell trial.

John was accepted into a clinical trial in Boston last year and finally underwent the surgery in September, 2016. He has followed up with the doctors many times since his surgery.

John had partially developed stem cells injected under his retina. At this point, he has not regained any sight, but there is still hope that the cells will continue to develop and make that possible. John believes that the goal of this initial clinical trial is to determine safety protocols for the procedure. He has his next checkup this month and privately hopes that there is some restoration of vision.

Lion Steve Sroka also spoke with the club. Steve is a member of the South Milwaukee Lions Club. He is also an events director for Foundation Fighting Blindness. Steve thanked the club again for our $25,000 gift that has been talked about nationwide by the foundation.

WAR CHEST

On February 21, our club visited the WAR Chest Boutique in downtown Naperville. The club enjoyed lunch and a discussion about WAR Chest from Regina Snyder.

WAR (Women at Risk) Chest is an organization designed to prevent human trafficking and support victims of human trafficking. Everything that is sold in their boutique is made by women who were victims of human trafficking. With every purchase, a card is included which tells the woman's story.

Regina informed our club that human trafficking is a booming industry in the United States and there are even some Naperville residents who have been affected. Women and children are kidnapped and forced into lives of slavery.

WAR Chest works with the State Department and Homeland Security to try and prevent this and rescue victims. They operate safe houses in many countries. If they discover a woman in one of these situations, they can work to get her to safety.

Regina stated that one of their main goals is to spread the word. The store in Naperville operates as a safe house itself and she wants people to know they exist and help is possible.

ILLINOIS TALKING BOOKS

Rose Chenoweth was our guest speaker on February 28. Rose was speaking to us on behalf of the Illinois Talking Books Outreach Center.

Talking Books is part of the Library of Congress that began with the service of World War I veterans who had lost their sight. They now serve anyone with low or no vision, reading disabilities, or physical disabilities that prevent the holding of a book. Talking Books is organized into regionals for each state. Currently, Illinois has two regionals – Chicago and everywhere else. Rose informed us that this year, Chicago will be dissolved and the state will have only one.

Talking Books provides reading machines to its users. Books come in a cartridge form and allow the user to listen to the book. The machine has many features that let the user fine-tune the listening experience to best suit them.

The service is paid for with tax dollars and there is no additional charge for anyone to use. The machine comes directly to the user through the mail. The books are copy written to work only on these machines.

Talking Books is currently working on ways to reach more people at a lower cost. They want to work on a method of directly downloading the book rather than sending the cartridge and have developed a mobile app to do just this.
