

February 2007

The sole meaning of life is to serve humanity.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Dear Fellow Lions,

While our fundraising efforts are slowed down for the winter months, there is much behind the scenes work being done to prepare for the Car Raffle, Funnel Cake sales at Ribfest and Turkey Trot. But the most exciting thing at the moment is the amount of help that we are giving to the Naperville Community. Lion Bob Jordan is working especially hard this year and we are on track to surpass last year's record of helping people see and hear; both in the number of cases and in dollars spent. Kudos to Lion Bob! We have also made our first round of donations to local charities ranging from Loaves and Fishes to RFB&D, from CASA of DuPage to Hadley School for the Blind and from Lions International Campaign for Sight First II to helping Lions of Illinois Foundation purchase two new hearing vans. Many thanks to all who have helped make these donations possible.

Now is the time to make sure that you are doing your part as a Lion. Join us at Angeli's for lunch every Tuesday at 12:15 for great food and comradeship. Bring a friend. Remember our motto:

"WE SERVE". (Lion Paul Rewerts)

Welcome to the 8th annual St. Baldrick's celebration!

Despite the more than $20 million raised in our first seven years, the St. Baldrick's community understands that our mission is far from over. Worldwide, 160,000 children are diagnosed with cancer each year, and while the challenge to treat them has never been greater, scientific research has also never been more promising.

Our goal is to fund cures which assure each child a long and healthy life. We also wish to make the St. Baldrick's program available to the best childhood cancer organizations throughout the world, so all can baldly stand in solidarity with these special children, encouraging medical collaboration which will speed progress in research.

We need your help to spread the word that all are welcome in the St. Baldrick's community. We vow to keep shaving until every child can be cured, and as always, you can expect us to be faithful to our founding principles of trust, integrity, efficiency, and a pioneering spirit and sense of fun.

Join us and be a hero for children with cancer.

The event was the idea of a group of reinsurance executives in New York City, all with Irish roots. For years, they had been observing St. Patrick's Day in the traditional way; pints at their favorite pub, with music and laughter in great supply. In appreciation for their own good fortune, they decided to find a way to help others, specifically children with cancer.

On March 17, 2000, they turned their annual St. Patrick's Day party into the first St. Baldrick's event. They collected donations from people willing to see them and other volunteers shaved bald at the party, with funds going to research to find cures. Their bald heads would be a symbol of solidarity with kids fighting cancer. To their surprise, they far surpassed their $17,000 goal, raising $100,000! And that was only the beginning! Over the past 7 years, over $20 million has been raised to fight childhood cancer, with thousands of shaves from all walks of life participating in hundreds of events.
